DR. NASHA WINTERS is a co-author of Mistletoe and the Emerging Future of Integrative Oncology, a new book being released this October. Dr. Nasha will be discussing the incredible power of mistletoe therapy and its foundational place within integrative cancer care. She will provide an expansive and inclusive view of how we can approach and accomplish healing the whole person. It's time to shed the war metaphor and acknowledge that comprehensive healing must incorporate spirit, soul, and body.
